POETICAL.

IN MEMORIAM.

REV. J. L. G FRYER, AGED TWENTY SEVEN.

"What I do, thou knowest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter."—BIBLE

Through sacred aisles there rings a mournful sound,
As still and heavily the dark pall flows,
And warm September sunshine softly falls
Over a sleeper hushed in calm repose,
Whose bright brow wears the immortal light of Heaven
In the far Land whose glory no man knows.

A youthful servant of the living God,
Called early home, from all life's tumult free,
Earth's labors ended, and earth's cross laid down,
Oh, meekly bowing to the Lord's decree;
Say, shall we mourn him, shall we grieve for him
Whose feet are walking by the Jasper sea?

Oft in the sacred chancel shall we hear,
In fancy's dream, again his light step fall,
And waiting, hush to listen for the voice,
That answers only when the angels call;
Yet God hath done it, surely God is good,
And loving wisdom overshadows all.

He came as humbly as a little child,
Flashed like a gleam of sunshine o'er our way,
Flashed and was gone, Oh, loving and beloved,
We cannot think him dead; we kneel and pray,
But the tears blind us, and we only see
The shadow of his new-made grave to-day.

Through sacred aisles there rings a mournful sound,
As still and heavily the dark pall flows,
And warm September sunshine softly falls
Over a sleeper hushed in calm repose,
Whose bright brow wears the immortal light of Heaven,
In the far Land whose glory no man knows.

Miscellaneous.

OUR NEW HOUSE.

"Eureka! I have found it!" I cried, as I entered the house.

"Found what?" queried Mrs. Dobb.

"The house, my dear. The very house we want."

"Oh! have you?" exclaimed my wife, with an intensity of emphasis that sufficiently explained her appreciation of the horrors of house-hunting. "I am so glad! It relieves my mind of more anxiety than you think, James. Where is it?"

"Here, in the paper."

And I pulled the morning paper from my pocket, where I had carried it all day, and struck it open triumphantly with one sweep of my strong right hand.

"Oh! James!"

I despair of conveying in print a clear idea of the expression my wife put into the utterance of those two words. It was the cry of a deceived and wounded spirit. Mrs. Dobb's face looked almost ghastly. It seems as if the light was all struck out of it as by the crash of sudden woe.

"Yes, in the paper," I went on, feigning not to perceive the havoc I had created in the sensitive breast of woman. "An advertisement, you know. What a blessed institution the advertising system is."

"Well read it."

I read it:

"To RENT—A snug, cozy house in the suburbs, handy to a line of horse cars. Will be let to a careful tenant at fifteen dollars per month Apply at No. 25 That street. Take a Blank street car."

"Now, then," I cried, exultant.

"Ridiculous!" said Mrs. Dobb.

"Ridiculous, Susan! Not a bit of it. I believe that house to be a prize. I'll go at once and see it. There'll be a hundred applicants for it."

Mrs. Dobb smiled incredulously.

"And so cheap, too," said I. "Fifteen dollars a month! Did you ever hear of such a thing?"

But Mrs Dobb was by no means favorably impressed with my new enterprise. She argued the point long and earnestly with me, reminding me that cheap things were invariably the dearest in the end; and at last, in the fervor of discussion, I did a very rash thing.

I agreed with Mrs. Dobb that if, on visiting the house I had in view, it did not prove every way desirable, I would release her in toto from all further trouble regarding a house—I would do the house-hunting this time myself.

I may say briefly that I bitterly repented of my promise afterwards. That house was a worthless affair.—And then I had to go out on a house-hunt.

I need not recount my sorrowful experiences. To those who know what house-hunting is I could tell nothing new; and to those who do not I have only to express the kindly hope that they never will. I had doors banged in my face by irascible housekeepers, who declared their carpets were being ruined; I was asked what my name was; what my business was; how many children I had; where I lived; in fact, I never had so many questions asked me in the same number hours before since I was examined by a life-insurance physician. One man even asked me to lend him five dollars, but he had no house to rent. At night I came home wearied and worn, and no nearer my object than when I began.

"This is an unprofitable business, Susan," said I. "I shall pursue it no longer."

"But what will you do, James?—Stay here?"

"No; we can't stay here at the advanced rent."

"Then, what will you do?"

"I'll go to a house agent. I ought to have thought of that in the first place."

I called on an agent the next day, and had some conversation with him.

"If you tell me about what sum you wish to pay for a house, Mr.—"

"Dobb is my name."

Mr. Dobb, I have no doubt I can suit you to a T."

I named a sum a little in advance of what I had paid the past year for the house I now occupy, and the agent replied—

"There is a house, in one of the most genteel and agreeable neighborhoods in the city, which is to be vacated in a few days, which I can let you have at the price you name; and is really a treasure at that figure. It has ten rooms, an enclosed piazza in front, overrun with flowering vines in the summer, and is two stories high I can recommend it in every respect, sir The conveniences are such as to admit of no criticism, and I promise you, and stake my reputation on the event, that you will find it quite to your liking. The rent is not low, to be sure, as things go; but the neighborhood is one of the choicest in the city. It has been occupied the past year by a very careful tenant, to whom no objection is entertained, that I can learn, except that he has children."

"So have I children," I said, very decisively; "four of them; and I intend that they shall occupy the same house with me, during the next twelve months at all hazards. So, if that is the objection, I believe we can drop the subject where it is."

"Ah! yes," says the agent, blandly. "It is only an objection of principle, however. The owner is opposed to renting his houses to families with children on principle; and the house to which I refer forms the only exception to this rule. I have no doubt he could be induced to make the same exception in your favor, sir."

"But if for me, why not for his present tenant?" I asked.

"Oh! he would for his present tenant, he told me; but the gentleman refuses to pay the increased rent, I am informed, and has found another house."

Some farther conversation followed. I was shown a plan of the offered house, and its various excellences were explained to me. I was fully convinced it was an excellent residence; and, after my weary experience in house-hunting, I felt quite a glow of satisfaction at the prospect of release on such comparatively reasonable terms I engaged the house at once.

"Have a lease prepared to-day," said I, to the agent, "and to-morrow I will call and sign it."

Mrs. Dobb was overjoyed when I her all about it that day at dinner. It was plain to see that we had secured a good home for the future.

"But, James," said my wife, "you haven't told me where the house is situated."

"Well, that's a good joke," said I. "Upon my word, I never thought to ask. I'll do so after dinner."

I did so. The agent said it was in Sutcha street.

"Is it?" said I. "Well, that's pleasant. We sha'n't have far to move, then; probably; for I live in Sutcha street now, and a delightful street it is What did you say was the number?"

"The number is seventeen."

"Seventeen!" I cried, in astonishment.

"Yes, sir."

"West side?"

"Yes. You know the house, perhaps?"

"I should think I ought to," was my response, in a hysterical tone; "I've lived in it for the past year."

Yes. I had rented my own house at a comfortable advance on last year's figure. When I told Mrs. Dobb about it she laughed till she cried.

I went roaming over the house, examining its merits critically and scrutinizing all the rooms with quite a new and peculiar interest.

"It is a good house, Susan, at any rate. That we know."

"It is, James. I am very well satisfied To be sure, the kitchen is rather small, and there is more room up stairs than we really need; but, taken altogether, I don't believe we could be better suited."

"And then, my dear wife," cried I, in a tone of exultation, "think what an escape from the horrors of moving. No exorbitant charges to carmen—no broken mirrors and scratched furniture—no sleeping on the parlor floor—no going to a restaurant for dinner for the family. Here we can be as happy as the shepherds of Arcadia."

AN INCIDENT OF THE REBELLION.—In the month of May, 1861. Mr H. A. Chambers, of Carbondale, forwarded to the Secretary of War a model and plans of a new projectile which he felt confident would prove of signal service in the conflict just begun. But hearing nothing from the War Department his patience, like that of many other inventors, became exhausted, and he went into other business in Philadelphia.

Soon after the fall of Richmond Mr. Chambers visited that section of the country on business. While walking near Petersburg examining a huge pile of rebel material accumulated there, a soldier friend accosted him with the remark—"There, Chambers, is your shell," at the same time picking from the rebel heap a shell of the identical plan of Mr. Chambers'.

It proved to be one of a kind thrown from the defences of Petersburg, and known to our soldiers as "Whistling Dick," and up to that time supposed to be of rebel origin.

This incident only serves to show the treachery that pervaded all departments at the beginning of the war, for some traitorous wretch in the War Office must have sent this Yankee contrivance off to Jeffdom for experimental use on the detested "Yanks."

☞ The following is an old obituary notice of Jacob Johnston—the father of President Johnson—taken from an old file of the Raleigh (N. C.) Star, dated January 10th, 1812. "Died, in this city, on Saturday last, Jacob Johnson, who had for years occupied an humble but useful station in society. He was city constable, sexton, and porter to the State Bank. In his last illness he was visited by the principal inhabitants of the city, by all of whom he was esteemed for honesty, industry and humane and friendly disposition. Among all to whom he was known and esteemed, none lamented him more (except perhaps, his relatives) than the publisher of this paper; for he owes his life, on a particular occasion, to the boldness and humanity of Johnson."

A WONDERFUL TREE.—In the birch wood of Culloden, Scotland, there is a remarkable tree, well worthy of note. Somewhere about thirty years ago a little giant of the forest was blown down in a storm, and fell right across a deep gully or ravine, which it completely spanned, and the top branches took root on the other side. From the parent stem no less than fifteen trees grew up perpendicularly, all in a row; and there they still flourish in all their splendor, while the parent stem evinces no token of decay — Several of the trees are not less than thirty feet high. The tree is a large fir.

VALUABLE INFORMATION.—A gentleman saw a notice of valuable information sent to any address on the receipt of ten cents, and thought he must have ten cents' worth more knowledge. He sent his dime, and received in answer the following: "Friend, for your ten cents, postage, etc., please find enclosed advice which may be of great value to you. As many persons are injured for weeks, months and years by the careless use of a knife, always whittle from you."

☞ "Ah, Sambo, I am going a long, long journey." "Never mind, massa," said the negro, consolingly, "it am all de way down hill."

Singular Customs of New England.

Dr Palfrey, in his History of New England, makes it quite evident that this part of the country was not a pleasant place for evil-doers to live in the early Puritan time. The forger's doom was to stand in the pillory three several lecture days, and render double damages to the party wronged, and also be disabled to give any evidence or verdict to any court or magistrate. The burial place of a suicide was in the common highway, with a cart-load of stones laid upon the grave as a brand of infamy. The profane swearer, in whose offence was not only included irreverence toward God, but wicked cursing of an person, forfeited ten shillings for a single oath; if he swore more oaths than one at a time before he removed out of the company in which he was he swore at the cost of twenty shillings Idlers among whom were especially reckoned common coasters unprofitable fowlers and tobacco-takers, exposed themselves to the house of correction. It was punishable by a fine of five shillings to dance, or use the game of shovel-board, or bowling or any other play in or about a house of entertainment, or to play a game for money or money's worth; or to observe any such day as Christmas or the like; and the bringing or keeping of cards or dice within the jurisdiction subjected the offender to a fine of five pounds. An attempt to draw away the affection of any maid, under pretence of marriage, before obtaining her parents and allowance from her parents or governors, or, in absence of all, of the nearest magistrate, was punished by a forfeiture of five pound. For a repetition of the attempt, the culprit was fined ten pounds and compelled to enter into a recognizance for better behavior. If still unreformed, he was, on conviction by the county court, committed to prison to remain there until the court assistants should see cause to release him. No person whose wife or husband continued to live abroad [illegible] Massachusetts. No man might strike his wife, or any woman her husband, on penalty of such fine not exceeding ten pounds for one offence, or such corporal punishment as the county court should determine.

The Heart and Brain.

In some of the lower types no trace of a nervous mechanism can be discovered. A little higher in the scale the mechanism is very slight and simple. Still higher it become complex and important. It culminates in man. Corresponding with this scale of complexity in the native life.—As the two rise in importance they rise in the scale of dependence. Thus a frog or a triton will live long after its brain is removed. I have kept frogs for several weeks without their brains, and tritons without their heads. Redi, the illustrious Italian naturalist, kept a turtle alive five months after the removal its brain. Now it is needless to say it in higher animals death would ally follow the loss of the brain. Somewhat similar parallelism is seen the removal of the heart. In of the higher animals can sure a serious injury to the heart; that organ may be removed from reptile, and the animal will crawl a seemingly as lively as ever A will live several hours without heart, and will hop, swim and stru as if uninjured. Stilling once ved all the viscera from a frog, whi wevever, continued for one hour to, defend itself, and ir various w manifest its vivacity.

LOGICAL SUBMISSION he Lynchburg (Va.) Republican s that it has submitted "to the f of arms, and acquiesce in the lt," but it wants it distinctly unood that it does not "yield an iot these great and fundamental prins of strict construction and St rights which we have always maint."

The logic of arms, it would seem, has simply disarmed this rebel. He proclaims himself such a rebel as ever and is only awaiting the advent of another ance to put his secession notions ictice.

Four Idle Daughters.

Yes, every one of them, idle, slothful, and, consequently, sensual and unrefined Dress in exquisite taste, do they? No doubt, and show white fingers as they crochet or play the piano. And what if they do shine in the opera-box, or the concert-room and theatre, as the pretty B'ar—everybody who knows them at all, knows them as four idle daughters. The gentlemen who, captives of a passing fancy, call upon them at times, know that from morning till night they pass inactive, silly lives; that their mother lives in the kitchen till her face is careworn, and her feet ready to drop with fatigue. Oh! it must be a bad thing to have four idle daughters, not one of whom is willing to lessen the burden of expense by even a trivial employment; not one of them willing to wash a muslin, or prepare a meal. Useless cumberers of the ground are they, and nobody would miss them were their foolish, unreasonable lives to be cut off to-morrow. They pretend to be educated, can tell probably that London is the metropolis of England, and France is a sunny clime; but the best of all education, good, practical common sense, genuine self respect, that would make them blush for their ignoble dependence, these four idle daughters lack. It is not genteel to wash for themselves—it is not lady like to sweep a room, except for those coarse, common-place persons who have been brought up to work. And what, pray, are they?—The children of common-place people who labor as God means every son and daughter of Adam should labor, or pay the penalty of idleness. Now they are four great animals, feeding, lounging and sleeping They will never be either respected or beloved by anybody whose love or respect is worth a farthing. As long as their foolish mother lives she will slave for them, humor them, and please herself with the imaginary belief that they are ladies; for "they never did a stitch of work." When she dies, how maliciously the lookers on will say: "Now, these four girls have got to work; I'm glad of it." They will never find half the sympathy or respect they might have looked for, if they possessed common sense enough to employ themselves. Idleness is the nurse of sin, and it is not possible for men or women to be pure and virtuous, if they lead lives of laziness and inactivity. These four idle daughters are, consequently, to be looked upon with some suspicion. It is a hard saying, but the truth, that strict purity is incompatible with laziness.—Many a fair-browed girl, with sparkling eyes and engaging smile, is sadly wanting in mental innocence. Watch the deportment of the daughters you know. If at home they are ministering angels, lightening the cares of the over-taxed mothers, not ashamed to be seen with uprolled sleeves and solid fingers: if they are always busy at some sweet, agreeable task, even in what they deem their idleness; the outward beauty of the shadow of the soul, pure, quiet, gentle, womanly.—Marry one of them.

An Unromantic Courtship

Several years ago, a young married man left Kilmarnock, with his wife and family, and settled in America.—He prospered in his new home, up to a recent period, when his wife took ill and died. His family being much increased, he saw he could not get on well without a wife. But he had neither time nor inclination for a regular courtship So he wrote a letter to one of his youthful comrades here, asking whether any of the lasses, who used to be in the "squad," were yet unmarried. A reply to this query was duly forwarded, which informed him that one whom he had known of old was still a servant-maid in the same house—a situation which she had kept for some fifteen years. The next mail brought a letter to this deserving woman, who must, long ago, have given up all hope of marriage, if old maids have no such expectations. In the letter was an offer of marriage, off hand, which he begged her to accept, and that so warmly that refusal was found to be impossible.—She, accordingly, gave up her place, and has just, as a matter of fact, sailed to meet her destined husband.—Ayrshire Express.

ONE'S OWN SHADOW.—The people of the East measure time by the length of their shadow. Hence, if you ask a man what o'clock it is, he immediately goes into the sun, stands erect; then, looking where his shadow terminates, he measures the length with his feet, and tells nearly the time. Thus the workmen earnestly desire the shadow which indicates the time for leaving their work. A person wishing to leave his toil says; "How long my shadow is in coming!" "Why did you not come sooner!"—"Because I waited for my shadow."—In the seventh chapter of Job, we find it written—"As a servant earnestly desireth his shadow."

Religious.

——For a long time there has been a lively discussion between the two parties, High and Low, in the Lutheran Church. To persons outside of this communion, it is somewhat difficult to get at the gist of the matter.—The Observer representing one party says the whole controversy hangs simply upon two points, vital in themselves, viz: 'The real presence,' and 'Baptismal Regeneration.' Hide the real issue as we may, here lies the difficulty; and unless there can be an understanding effected on these points, our useless, and would to God they were harmless, controversies must continue. The idea of liturgical or non liturgical services, in churches, would fall to the ground at once, as if legitimate cause for dispute, if once this vexed question were settled. The Lutheran of the other party, we believe, comments on the above paragraph thus: The Observer states the generic Question well enough; but when he comes to the species, he blunders greatly. There is hardly an article of the Augsburgh Confession, which is not more or less involved in the life Question of our Church in this land.

——The General Baptist Association of Virginia invited the colored churches to hold a conference with them to see what terms they could make with them for a basis of co-operation. Notwithstanding the oft-repeated assertion of the organs of the Southern churches, that the negroes have more confidence in them than in the Northern churches, the colored churches refused to co-operate unless they have equal rights in the General Association, and could have fraternal relations to the Northern churches. These requests the white Baptists were unwilling to grant, and the colored churches will therefore effect an independent organization.

——It was asserted at the late meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland, that more than 100,000 copies of the Douay Bible had been sold by a single publisher, Mr. Duffy, who is a Roman Catholic. The N. Y. Observer referring to the liberty allowed to the Roman Catholics in Ireland to read the Bible says if the priests would allow the reading even of this authorized version, copies would be supplied gratuitously to the whole Roman Catholic population of New York city, within less than a twelve month.

——It is thought that considerable discussion will take place at the next session of the General Synod of the Lutheran Church, relative to the obligatory character of the Augsburgh confession. When the Frankean Synod of New York was admitted to the General Synod, quite an animated discussion occurred between the High and the Low Church Lutherans At the recent session of the Frankean Synod, it was very strongly protested against an "unqualified recognition of the entire confession."

——The New York State Sunday School Association held its annual session at Syracuse, N. Y., recently. It was a grand affair, and the attendance so great that no church in the city was large enough to accommodate them Weiting Hall was crammed all the time. It is supposed that twenty-five hundred men were in attendance. Why can't the Keystone State have their annual gathering?—The last Convention held at Pittsburg over two years ago, was a great success.

——The census of religious worship in Great Britain, taken in 1851, shows that forty-eight per cent. of the worshipping population of England and Wales were connected with Free Churches. It was also ascertained that in Scotland only one third of the people attended the services of the Established Church of that country. In Ireland, out of every one hundred of the population only twelve are members of the Established Church!

——A Congregational paper (at least rated one) referring to the rules of the Presbyterian Church requiring ministers joining a Presbytery to support its system of polity, wonders to find that seven out of nine ministers, having pastoral charge, in the (O. S.) Presbytery of Londonderry, are pastors of Congregational churches.

——Dr. Colenso when presented with the gift of £3,330, by 600 subscribers, partly to make for the loss of Episcopal income, and partly to testify to his services in the cause of free expression of opinion within the Church of England, he urged the importance of never slandering in resistance to the spirit of sacredotalism.

——The Bishop of Winchester, in England, has decided that lights, incense, and eucharistic vestments may be used in the churches of his diocese This decision will not be relished by the evangelical portion of the ministry of the Establishment; but it will greatly delight the Puseyites.

——Some newsmonger has ascertained that out of two hundred and twenty five Evangelical churches in the city of New York one hundred and seventy were closed from the middle of July to the last Sabbath in August

Agricultural.

Unprofitable Farming.

1. Purchase poor land at a low price, instead of the best at a high price.

2. Want of underdraining in all places where work is retarded, growth lessened, and manure lost by a surplus of water.

3. Inefficient fences, admitting depredators to destroy crops, and deranging farm order.

4. Building poor barns and stables, and allowing them to become dilapidated.

5. Wintering cattle, sheep, and colts at stacks in open fields.

6. Plowing badly, on the shallow, cut-and-cover system, instead of throwing up the soil into a fine, deep, even, mellow bed of earth.

7. Covering seed imperfectly, in consequence of such bad plowing, and thus allowing weeds and grass a joint occupancy of the land.

8. Planting and sowing too late, thus diminishing the crop to an amount equal to what would be the whole nett profit; that is, throwing away the entire avails.

9. Allowing corn fields to be filled with a dense undergrowth of weeds, and potatoes and turnips with a dense overgrowth of the same,

10. Procuring cheap implements, and losing many times the cost of good ones by the slow and imperfect work they perform.

11. Leaving implements exposed to weather, to crack, warp, and decay, scattering them in fields, about the barnyard, or along the side of the public highway.

12. Throwing brush rubbish, &c., along the fences and highways, thus promoting the growth of mullins, thistles, burdocks, and nettles; instead of destroying such brush by fire, and leaving neat and clean borders to the fields.

13 Planting the same crop year after year in the same field, thus diminishing the product, and filling the land with weeds.

14. Omitting to spread manure at the right time, and then selling or giving it away to get rid of it.

15. Raising hump-back cattle and lankpike hogs, that will consume monthly their entire value in feed instead of the best animals, which fatten easily on little, and sell quickly for cash at high prices.

Draining Swamps.

The editor of the Genesee Farmer has a swamp that he thought was nearly a dead level, and was afraid it could not be drained. He had it surveyed, and found a fall of no less than ten feet A little exultant over the discovery, he says:

"Now for a big ditch, and then for big crops of grass, and then for plenty of manure to enrich the upland portion of the farm. The low land has been receiving matter from the high ground, and now I hope for a change to get it back again. This is the cheapest way of getting manure.—Can't you draw the muck on your land?" Yes, but I prefer to get it in a more concentrated form. Grow big crops on your low land, and these will make manure for your high land, and at considerable less expense.—There is nothing like plenty of alluvial meadow land to enrich a farm."

HINTS ON HARVESTING BUCKWHEAT.—The excellence of buckwheat flour depends chiefly on the management of the grain between the time of ripening and grinding. The common way of treating buckwheat effectually prevents making good flour, it being allowed to remain in the swath for several weeks, when it should never be suffered to lie longer than a day or two, and it is decidedly better for the grain to rake it and set it on end as fast as it is cradled. Much less grain will be wasted by shelling out; the straw will cure and dry out sooner, and make better fodder; the crop will be ready for threshing or housing in less time; and the grain will yield a much better quality of flour. It is especially injurious to the grain to be exposed to storms before it is set up, for dirt is spattered all over the grain by the falling of large rain drops.—This makes the flour dark colored and gritty. Wetting and drying the grain several times destroys the "life" of the flour. It will never be as white nor make as good cakes, but will be sticky, and the cakes clammy, like the flour of sprouted wheat.—American Agriculturist.

Colic in Horses.

The following is a certain cure for colic in horses. We have seen it tried dozens of times, and always with success. We are sure it will save any horse if the directions are followed: Dissolve one pint of salt in a pint of hot water; then add a quart of good vinegar, and pour half the mixture down the horse's throat. If the horse is not well in half an hour give him the remainder, and you will soon find him all right.

Sheep.

One of the correspondents of the Genesee Farmer, who is quite successful with his sheep, says he always keeps a bucket of tar, and whenever he hears a cough he smears the nose of the sheep with it.

THE BEAVER ARGUS.

October 18th, 1865.

To the Patrons of the Argus

Having purchased from Col. M. S. Quay his interest in the Beaver Argus, I will hereafter conduct it as sole editor and proprietor. Subscriptions will run on as if no change had taken place. Those who have not yet paid, will pay the same to me. Those who owe for advertising can pay to either Col. Quay or myself. All accounts, either for subscription or advertising, not settled before the first of January, will be put into the hands of a collector for collection, and fifty cents additional will be charged subscribers who have not paid. We have almost fifteen hundred dollars standing on our books during the short time we have had control of the paper, and as a consequence we have had to advance money out of other funds to carry on the paper. Our readers will see the injustice of this, and we hope will come forward and settle before the end of the year.

It will be my object to make the paper valuable to the reader, and in return all I ask is a liberal support and prompt payments. Indorsing, unreservedly, the Administration of President Johnson and of Governor Curtin, the Argus will continue as heretofore the faithful exponent of the principles of the Union party, so lately triumphant at the polls.

JAMES S. RUTAN.

☞ ODELL is in trouble. Things have not gone just precisely as they should. Things sometimes are perverse and won't. Odell don't know how the State has voted, but it may have gone Republican; don't know how Beaver county has gone, but the Republican majority may be five hundred. We sympathise with Odell in his bewilderment. We extend to an imaginary Odell an imaginary hand, as we assure him that the State is Republican by an emphatic majority; that Beaver county is 746 for the Union, a vote unprecedented at a similar election, and that Quay goes to the Legislature by about a thousand in the District. Had the people a proper respect for Odell, these things would not be so; and having a proper appreciation of himself, and of his abilities and exertions, it is but natural that he should be confused and stupified by these results. Odell came from afar to take part in the contest just concluded. He saw that the people of this county were like lost sheep in want of a shepherd, and he took up his crook and came hitherward. He came to rescue the innocent, enlighten the ignorant, and clad in the thunders of avenging justice for the guilty, of whom Quay was the chief. He thundered at the Schools, the Agricultural Society, and the public officers; but the Schools did not close, the Fair succeeded at the day appointed, and the county officers still live and have their being. Then came the election, when Quay should have been smitten and cast into outer darkness. But alas for Odell again! Odell lightened, but Quay wasn't struck. "Shoddy" triumphed. Quay, the pet of the "Mutual Admiration Junto," Quay, the "Raider," Quay, the raiser of fees, Quay, the incarnation of Black Republicanism, Abolitionism, Negro-Suffrage-ism, and other isms and diabolisms without number, was duly elected in conformity to law and the will of the people, to a seat in the next Legislature.

It is heart-rending to reflect that the majority of the people of Beaver county have been so blind to their own interests as to differ in opinion with the amiable and dignified Odell, but it is often thus amongst erring mortals. The world frequently knows not its real friends and benefactors, and genius oft goes to the grave unrecognized and unrewarded.

"Castles are sacked in war,
Chieftains are scattered far,
But truth is a fixed star," and never changes. Some day his merit may be recognized. A century or two hence, when the daisies have long bloomed above him, Beaver county may swing to the Democratic side, and then, if ever, his memory will be vindicated. Then, perhaps, old men will tell the tale how a mighty prophet once came out of Noble county, Ohio, to prophesy to the people of Beaver, and how the people of Beaver knew not their prophet and slew him, and how the prophet got slewed—Requiescat in pace. With assurances of our sincere commiseration, we are very respectfully, his obd't serv't, &c.

Iowa.

Governor Stone's majority in Iowa will be about fifteen thousand. The remaining Union candidates on the State ticket have a much larger majority.

☞ A western editor must be in a bad fix. Having dunned a subscriber for his subscription, he not only refused to pay, but threatened to flog the editor if he stopped the paper.

☞ But we do know that the Democratic party has lost nothing and gained much. The prestige of the opposition is overthrown and their end draweth nigh.—Local on the last election.

The Democratic party have lost Pennsylvania, but as the State don't belong to them they lose nothing there. Their Auditor General and Surveyor General are ousted by two Republicans, but as Sleuker and Barr never amounted to anything, politically or otherwise, they lose nothing there. But Odell's figuring a loss to the opposition is to say the least, remarkable. According to his reasoning, if we lose prestige and give signs of approaching dissolution upon the result as ascertained, a majority of 50,000 for Hartranft would have utterly annihilated the Republican party and set Odell wild with exultation.

Letter from Charleston.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 7, 1865.

This city, like most of cities in the insurgent States, has suffered severely—very severely—from the ravages of war. And why should it not have suffered even to utter destruction and annihilation; for lo! these thirty years it has been the hot-bed of treason.—Here John C. Calhoun preached for years the great Southern Doctrine of State Rights; and from him all others took the key; even men in the North, whose zeal for party and the spoils far exceeded their wisdom, and whose narrow-mindedness could be compared only to their hair-brained philosophy, stood up for years in the halls of Congress, side by side with the great leader, and battled uncompromisingly against not only their brethren in the North, not only against the popular sentiment of the country, but against the immutable and eternal principles of Freedom and Justice. Yet how true that God makes even the wrath of man to praise Him. Examine carefully the progress—the history in detail—of the late rebellion. Reflect a moment upon the unexampled prosperity of the North during the continuance of the war. Reflect upon the universal healthfulness of the entire community, the bountifulness of the crops, and the comforts by which even the poorest were surrounded; and who that believes in Divine Goodness, can fail to see that the Lord was with us. And if He is for us, who can be against us? In every event of the war—in the hour of defeat as well as in the hour of triumph; "in all time of our tribulation, in all time of our prosperity;" from the beginning even unto the end, He was with us. Only a day or two since a gentleman who believed as strongly as ever man believed in secession, said to me: "The Almighty was against the South from the very beginning of the war."

This city suffered much during the war from fire; but more from the total suspension of business, which continued from the beginning of the seige by Gen. Gillmore until this summer. Every place of business was closed, and the city entirely deserted, so that when we took possession of it the greatest business marts were thickly covered with grass and weeds the heighth of a man's knee A great portion of the buildings were perforated by tremendous shells thrown a distance of more than five miles, and the hotel at which I am now stopping was riddled by no less than nine such missives.

Beauregard advised the people to remain at home, inasmuch as, in his opinion, they were out of the range of our fire; but, although they entertained a very high opinion of him as a military man, his eloquence had not the persuasive power of Yankee artillerists; and although he deemed his own quarters beyond the possibility of danger from our fire, one shell induced him, (as I was told by a colored man, who had been his servant,) to change his position very unceremoniously.

There is now quite an appearance of business here; but that is has any permanent basis, or that there is money sufficient in this community, and the community large enough, to justify and sustain for any considerable length of time, such a quantity of commodities as are here now, I very much doubt. If the resumption of agriculture were equal to that of merchandizing, there could be no doubt of ultimate and permanent prosperity; but such is not the fact. The South began last Spring to prepare for another years' war; and, instead of cotton, they planted supplies for their army. As a consequence the quantity of "the great staple" produced this year is very small—will not exceed, (I have been told by one who has every opportunity to know,) 400,000 bales; and their only other crop—corn—will not be more than sufficient to supply their own wants. For one year at least, therefore, these people will be compelled to confine their purchases to the actual necessities of life, which will have the effect, I greatly fear, to bring ruin upon merchants here who have purchased large stocks of goods of every description—as large and as varied as are to be found in the most flourishing places in the North, and consequently, embarrassment upon their creditors in Philadelphia and New York.

In my next I shall give you an account of the people, their sentiments, and their hopes and fears.

GRANT GRAHAM.

☞ The Union majority in the State is about 5000 larger than last year. In the county, on the State ticket, it is one vote more than last year; the largest majority ever given in this county, except at a presidential or gubernatorial election. This is perhaps owing to the efforts of the editor of the Local. We have no doubt a few more additions to the Democracy of this county from Noble county, Ohio, will increase our majority still more next year. Bring them on.

Medical.

The Beaver county Medical Society, in pursuance of regular order, convened at the National Hotel, in Beaver, on Thursday, the 12th inst., S. P. Cummins, M. D., in the chair, and S. M. Ross, M. D. appointed Secretary, pro. tem. Members present—Drs. S. P. Cummins, S. M. Ross, D. S. Marquis, W. W. Simpson, D. M'Kinney, A. L. Morand, F. F. Davis, B. Feicht, A. C. Barlow, J. E. Jackson.

Dr. Davis, having located in Latonia, Venango county, tendered his resignation, which were accepted, but was continued with the privileges of an honorary member.

Drs. Barlow, Feight, and Morand, [illegible] as candidates for membership, was examined by Drs. Simpson, Langfitt, and Jackson, and passed; recommended as competent members, whereupon they were unanimously received. After the transaction of some ordinary business, the Society then proceeded to its usual deliberations of a professional character.

Dr. S. M. Ross read a very neat and creditable essay on the Origin of Disease, which was filed with the literary contributions of the Society. Dr. D. S. Marquis reported an extraordinary case of Colic, or inveterate spasm of the bowels, presenting some singular and perplexing symptoms—fatal. Dr. J. E. Jackson reported an interesting case of Primary Pyæmia, occurring in a case of Typhoid Fever—fatal.

Dr. S. M. Ross reported a remarkable case of Typhoid Fever, combining many formidable symptoms, unusual in that disease—recovered. The discussions on the several cases reported, as well as upon all subjects of a professional character, was general and interesting, nearly all the members participating, and conducted in an amicable and pleasant manner, resulting in mutual benefit to all present.

Dr. W. W. Simpson was appointed essayist for the next regular meeting, which will be held in New Brighton, on the second Thursday of January, 1866, and Dr. D. M'Kinney, alternate.

The necessity of more frequent autopsies was discussed at some length, and a suggestion prevailed, recommending the members of the Society to insist in a kind and respectful manner, on post mortem examinations, where the Pathology and Diagnosis of the case is obscure.

On motion of Dr. Simpson, that the society hold a conversational meeting once a month, for the interchange of practical experience in medicine and surgery, which, after a protracted discussion, was adopted.

On motion, a vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Joseph Hall, proprietor of the National Hotel, and his excellent lady, for the polite and very abundant manner in which they entertained the Society.

On motion, adjourned to meet at the same place on the second Tuesday, 14th of November, which meeting is to be devoted exclusively to the mutual discussion of medical and surgical science. REPORTED.

California.

At the recent election of a new Legislature in California, the Union party gained a complete victory.—The State Senate is composed of 40 members, of whom 19 hold over from last year, and 21 were elected on September 6th. Of the 19 who hold over only 2 are Democrats, and 5 other Democrats have been elected this year, making 7 Democrats in all against 33 Unionists. In the Assembly the Democrats claim 25 members. The Union party at all events have a majority of 15.

Only $15.00 for a set of teeth worth $50.00.
Only $20.00 for a set of teeth worth $100.00.
Only $30 for a double set of teeth worth $100.

Take notice! at Dr. SPENCER'S Pittsburgh Steam Dental Establishment, artificial teeth are not warranted for a month, or a few cents, but for one year, and if not entirely satisfactory when made, need not be taken away. All the machinery and appliances in the laboratory, and the lathes in the offices are run by a six horse power steam engine at a great saving of both time and labor. Dr. Spencer having at the present time nine first class assistants, graduates of the best Dental Colleges in the States, (also a lady to receive and assist in waiting on ladies and children,) is enabled to make from 100 to 125 sets of artificial teeth per week; so that persons from a distance need only stay in the city from six to twelve hours in order to be supplied with a superior set of artificial teeth, warranted comfortable and to render good satisfaction, than getting teeth and a visit to our city all for less money than they would cost you at home. Natural teeth carefully treated and filled with beautiful and permanent gold fillings.

Remember the place, No. 254, 254, 254 PENN STREET, where you will be made perfectly at home through the cordial attentions of the proprietor, his assistants and attendants.

LOCAL and MISCELLANEOUS.

☞ We have received an obituary on the death of Capt. John Cuthbertson, for publication, but owing to lateness of the hour which it came to hand, and the crowded state of our columns, the publication is deferred till next week.

Examination.

The examinations of Union School will take place on Thursday and Friday of this week. All are respectfully invited to attend.

BEAVER SEMINARY.—A meeting of the Stockholders of Beaver Seminary and Institute, will be held at Seminary buildings, on Saturday, October 28, 1865, at 3 P. M., for the election of 15 Trustees for the ensuing year.

☞ The Fifth Regular Artillery has been ordered to relieve the Third Pa. Heavy Artillery, now on garrison duty at Fortress Monroe. The latter regiment is to be immediately mustered out. It contains a number of Beaver county boys.

☞ The Borough of Beaver gave the Union State ticket, at the recent election, one hundred and thirty majority, twenty-one more than it ever gave before to any ticket. Odell, after all his exhortations to the Democracy, didn't vote.

Ohio.

Reported majorities from all but nineteen counties in Ohio foot up as follows: Cox, 31,894; Morgan, 14,687; Cox's majority, 17,207. It is estimated that Cox's majority in the whole State will be about 25,000.

☞ If any of our readers desire to purchase an excellent cooking stove, very cheap, we would inform them that Mr. Bestwick, manufacturer of tin, copper and sheet ware, and agent for the sale of three different kinds of cooking stoves, is just the man to call upon. In fact, everything in his line, always on hand, and sold at the most reasonable terms. Call and examine his stoves and ware, and it will be found this recommendation is more than deserved.

☞ The Local charges that we voted for the River Bed Swindle, and got some of our friends to deny it for us on the day of the election. We would inform the editor of the Local that we sent the Legislative Record to a friend, showing that we voted against the bill known as the River Bed Swindle Bill. We did vote, however, to authorize the public sale of the river bed, providing it could be done legally, and the State could realize anything out of the sale. Is the editor of the Local opposed to such a sale?

Indiana.

The Democracy of Indiana made a tame showing in the county elections. Beaten in some of their strongholds, as at Fort Wayne, and making no effort at all in the Republican counties, they come out decidedly small. We have noticed that there was no Democratic ticket in Indianapolis. The Lafayette Journal says: "The election yesterday was the funniest thing ever witnessed in Lafayette. Altogether it was a one sided matter, the Democrats having no ticket in the field. The Republicans voted till they became tired of the fun, and then stopped."

DEATH OF W. K. PEIRCE, Esq.—It is with no ordinary feelings of sorrow that we announce the death of W. K. Peirce, Esq., Pension Agent of Western Pennsylvania, at Pittsburg. He died at his residence in Allegheny city, on Monday morning last, after a short illness. Mr. Peirce was a young man of promise, a lawyer by profession, possessing remarkable business qualifications, active, energetic and honest, and withal a courteous, pleasant and accommodating gentleman. He filled the responsible position of Pension Agent for about three years, and gave universal satisfaction. He was married about a year since to Miss Emma Dempsey, only daughter of Rev. D. L. Dempsey, D.D., of this place. To his young wife who survives him, this is indeed a sad bereavement.

☞ Col. S. P. Heintzleman, former Major General, is ordered to join his regiment at Hart's Island and report to General Wessels, who was a Captain in the former's regiment in Mexico. At this rate one or two more wars would practically reduce him to the rank of second Lieutenant.

☞ Townsend Grover, of the Department of Agriculture, at Washington has received the Emperor Napoleon's grand gold medal of honor, at the World's Entomological Exhibition at Paris. This prize was awarded for Mr. Glover's unpublished work on the insects of North America.

Agricultural Meeting.

The Board of Managers of the Beaver County Agricultural Society met at the Court House, Friday, Oct. 13th, 1865.

Anderson, President, in the chair.

Members present: Messrs. Anderson, Burns, Briggs, Christy, Laird Potter, Shrodes and Wilson.

Jos. C. Wilson, Esq., tendered his report of funds received during the Fair, showing net receipts to be $1,556,16—report received and placed on file.

The wages of Police and Gate Keepers, were on motion fixed at, for Gate Keepers, $2,50 per day; Police, $3,00 for day and night.

One of the parties to the Trotting match refusing to comply with the decision of the Judges it was resolved by the Board of Managers to refund the entrance fee ($10,00) to each person.

The thanks of the Board were on motion, tendered to Jas. Wilson, Esq., of New Brighton, for an Orange tree 14 years old, and a Cotton plant raised by Mr. Wilson, and presented by him to the Society.

Resolved, That no indebtedness of the Society will be paid except by order from President to Treasurer, except Premiums, which will be paid by Treasurer from certified copy of Premium List.

On motion the following warrants were granted:

Henry Edwards, making Table, $3,00; Henry Edwards, boarding Judges, Managers, &c., $66,80.

Police.—John Marquis, $7,50; R. W. McQuiston, 7,50; Wallace Fish, $6,00; A. Robinson, $1,50; E. M. Swager, $6,00; Geo. Hinds, $4,50; Eli Reed, $1 50; Jamison Elliott, $1,50; Alex Reed, $1,50; Nathaniel Lindsey, $6,00.

Gate Keepers.—Wm. C. Hunter, $7,50; Wm. A. Laird, $5,00; John L. Hall, $6,25; John Gibson, $7,50; Cicero Turner, $7,50; John Barclay Store bill, $5,05; Charles French, hauling water, $9,00; Wm. Shrodes, expenses at Economy, $1,80; A. B Wolf, expenses at Economy, $1,80; A. Robinson, work at track, $6,00

On motion adjourned.

Accident on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

LANCASTER, Oct. 14.

This afternoon, about a quarter before three o'clock, one of those disastrous accidents which startle whole communities, occurred on the Pennsylvania Railroad, at a point about four miles west of this place. As near as I can ascertain up to this time, nine persons were killed and a number wounded. It appears, from what I have been able to gather from persons who were on the same train, that as the train, which consisted of ten cars and two locomotives, was approaching the spot where the accident occurred, one of the rails disengaged itself from the sleeper and sprung outwards, the train at the moment running at full speed. The end of the rail next to the one which sprung out, then started from its chair fastening, and it is said to have come in contact with the foremost truck of the first car next to the baggage car, breaking an axle and tearing the floor of the car almost from end to end. At the same instant the four last cars were thrown from the track, one of them being thrown down the embankment. From the point at which the rail sprung from its resting place, about fifty yards of the track eastward, were torn up.—The scene which must have been terrible, I am unable to describe, as I have not seen any person who was present, a sufficient length of time to get anything beyond the foregoing statement.

Here I learn that among the killed were the wife of Mr. James P. Barr, Surveyor General; Col. Wm. Butler and wife, of Lewistown; William H. Butler, a clerk in the office of the Surveyor General, at Harrisburg; and a lady named Getty, from Milwaukee, Wisconsin. I understand there are others who have not been identified, but a coroner's inquest is in progress, and the bodies are all here. Some of those who were injured have been brought here, and are being cared for. Others, who were slightly wounded, have gone on to Philadelphia.

I hear that the Hon. James P. Barr is not very severely injured, and that it is his intention to leave here by the express train going West to night, when the body of Mrs. Barr will be sent forward.

☞ The Pittsburg papers announced on Monday morning that Hon. G. V. Lawrence, member of Congress elect from this district, died at his residence in Monongahela City, on Friday last, of billious Diarrhea. Upon inquiry of Marshall Murdoch, we learn the report is untrue, and that Mr. Lawrence, although quite ill, is in a fair way to recover. We are most happy to be able to make this gratifying announcement. With all who heard the news, we felt terribly over the sad calamity we supposed had befallen the people of this District. We hope Mr. Lawrence will soon be restored to health again, and that he may long live to serve the District and State. He is too good a man to lose from the councils of the Nation in this time of danger. His place could not be supplied.

TEACHERS' COUNTY INSTITUTE.

The Annual Session of the Beaver County Teachers' Institute, will be held at the Union School Building, in Rochester, Pa., commencing on Tuesday the 24th of Oct., at 10 o'clock, a. m., and will continue in session four days.

Speakers have been engaged to address the Institute, at the evening Sessions.

The State Superintendent of Common Schools has also promised to be present, and assist in conducting the exercises.

Teachers who expect to teach fall or winter Schools in this county, will remember that it is their duty to present themselves at the County Institute, or be able to give a satisfactory excuse for absence.

Parents, School Directors and Clergymen are cordially invited to attend.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

THE WORLD'S CHEAP REMEDY FOR

Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases.

From Emery Eder, a well-known merchant of Oxford, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA; but never yet one bottle which failed of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robt. Stratton, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the medicinal virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My daughter, aged 16, had an afflicting humor in her eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jane E. Rice, a well-known and much-esteemed lady of Deanville, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the widely-known Gage, Murray & Co., manufacturers of enamelled papers in Nashua, N. H.:

"I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it disfigured my features and became an intolerable affliction. I tried almost every thing a man could of both advice and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It immediately made my face worse, as you told me it might for a time; but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is as smooth as any body's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. I enjoy perfect health, and without a doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purify the Blood.

From Dr. Robt. Sacia, Houston St., New York.

"Dr. AYER: I seldom fail to remove Scrofulous and Scrofulous Sores by the persevering use of your SARSAPARILLA; and I have just now cured an attack of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied to the profession as well as to the people."

From J. E. Johnston, Esq., Wakeman, Ohio.

"For twelve years, I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicines. The ulcers were so bad that the cords became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and some of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Monro, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Sicker, Esq., the able editor of the Tunkhannock Democrat, Pennsylvania.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead. They rapidly spread until they formed a loathsome and virulent sore, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skilful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the festering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began giving your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the iodide of potash lotion, as you direct. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the second. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

From Dr. Hiram Stout, of St. Louis, Missouri.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA a more effectual remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis, and for syphilitic disease than any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. J. French, M. D., an eminent physician of Lawrence, Mass., who is a prominent member of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"DR. AYER: My dear Sir: I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary type, and effectual in some cases that were too obstinate to yield to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required."

Mr. Chas. S. Van Liew, of New Brunswick, N. J., had dreadful ulcers on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury, or mercurial disease, which grew more and more aggravated for years, in spite of every remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA relieved him. Few cases can be found more inveterate and distressing than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness, are generally produced by internal Scrofulous Ulceration, and are very often cured by the alterative effect of this SARSAPARILLA. Some cases require, however, in aid of the SARSAPARILLA the skilful application of local remedies.

From the well-known and widely-celebrated Dr. Jacob Morrill, of Cincinnati.

"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in diseases of females. Many cases of irregularity, Leucorrhœa, Internal Ulceration, and local debility, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, and there are few that do not, when its effect is properly aided by local treatment."

A lady, unwilling to allow the publication of her name, writes:

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very debilitating Leucorrhœa of long standing, by two bottles of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia, when caused by Scrofula in the system, are rapidly cured by this EXT. SARSAPARILLA.

CATHARTIC PILLS

possess so many advantages over the other purgatives in the market, and their superior virtues are so universally known, that we need not do more than to assure the public their quality is maintained equal to the best it ever has been, and that they may be depended on to do all that they have ever done.

Valuable Farm

For Sale.

THE EAKIN FARM, or better known as the Locust Flat Farm, situated within half a mile of the borough of Beaver, in Beaver county, Pa., will be sold, on Thursday, October 19th, 1865, at 10 o'clock, a. m., if not sooner sold. Above farm contains 131 acres, and two out town lots adjoining, containing 15 acres. Of above, 100 acres is cleared, the balance well timbered with white oak and locust; 80 acres in meadow, the whole in the best of cultivation, and acknowledged to be one of the best and most productive farms in the county. With good and comfortable buildings, situated convenient to churches, schools and markets; the three classical schools in Beaver and Public School upon the farm, makes it one of the most desirable in Western Pennsylvania for persons wishing to educate a family and be at home. The road leading to New Lisbon runs through the farm and divides it, so it can be sold all or separated to suit purchasers. For further particulars inquire on the premises, or of GEO. QUAILL, Executor of the estate of James Eakin, deceased. Post-office address, Allegheny City, Pa.

BRITISH PERIODICALS.

VIZ.

THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW (Conserv.)
THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig.)
THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (Radical.)
THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free-Church.)
AND BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory.

The American Publishers continue to reprint the above-named periodicals, but as the cost of printing has doubled, the price of paper nearly trebled, and taxes, duties, licenses, etc., largely increased, they are compelled to advance their terms as follows:

TERMS FOR1865.

For any one of the Reviews—	$4,00
For any two of the Reviews	7,00
For any three of the Reviews	10,00
For all four of the Reviews	12,00
For Blackwood's Magazine	4,00
For Blackwood and one Review	7,00
For Blackwood and any two Reviews	10,00
For Blackwood and three Reviews	13,00
For Blackwood and the four Reviews	15,00

The works will be printed on a greatly improved quality of paper, and while nearly all American Periodicals are either advanced in price or reduced in size—and very generally both—we shall continue to give faithful copies of all the matters contained in the original editions. Hence, our present prices will be found as cheap, for the amount of matter furnished, as those of any of the competing periodicals in this country.

Compared with the cost of the originals editions, which at the present premium on gold would be about $100 a year, our prices ($15) are exceedingly low. Add to this the fact that we make our annual payments to the British Publishers for early sheets and copyright in Gold—$1 costing us at this time (Jan. 1865) nearly $2,50 in currency—and we trust that in the scale we have adopted we shall be entirely justified by our subscribers and the reading public.

The interest of these Periodicals to American readers is rather increased than diminished by the articles they contain on our Civil War, and though sometimes tinged with prejudice, they may still, considering their great abilility and the different stand-points from which they are written, be read and studied with advantage by the people of this country, of every creed and party.

THE FOUR REVIEWS for 1863.

A few copies of the above remain on hand, and will be sold at $5 for the whole four, or $2 for any one.

WASHER, WRINGER and STARCHER Combined! Silver and Bronze Medals, Diplomas, Certificates, Premiums, and Testimonials, have been received from various sources, both Public and Private.

Self-Adjusting and Adjustable! The only Wringer with the Patent Cog-Wheel Regulator, for turning both rolls together and which positively prevents the rolls from breaking or twisting on the shaft. It is not only a perfect Wringer, but the Cog-wheels give it a power which renders it a most Excellent Washer pressing and separating, as it does, the dirt with the water from the clothes, leaving them dryer, whiter, and smoother than when "wrung" by hand. The water can be pressed from large and small articles, easier, quicker, and more thoroughly than by the ordinary, old-fashioned back-breaking, wrist-straining, and clothes destroying process.—The Cog-wheels prevent all "wear and tear" of clothes by the friction of the rolls or breaking of stitches by twisting.

Without Cog-wheels, the whole strain of forcing the cloth through the Machine is put upon the lower roll, and the cloth is made to act in the place of Cog-wheels, to drive the upper roll, causing a much greater strain upon the lower roll than when Cog-wheels, with our Patent Regulator, are used, besides the extra strain upon the cloth. A Good Canvasser wanted in every town. Liberal inducements offered, and exclusive sale guaranteed.

The Best, Most Reliable Sewing Machine Now in Use!

These Machines make the lock-stich alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silks that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do. It will Stitch, Hem, Fell, Quilt, Tuck, Plait, Gather, Cord, Braid, etc., all without previous basting; and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family; or they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect; or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, without changing the feed needle or tension, or making any adjustment of machine whatever!

It has the following advantages over all other machines:

Far greater variety of work; beauty and excellence of stitch; speed and quietness of motion; simplicity of construction; ease and management; elegance of design and finish.

These are peculiar facts, and will go far to determine the choice of an intelligent buyer.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

THIS Institution, which was established in 1844, and is now consequently in the eighteenth year of its existence, numbers among its graduates, hundreds of the most successful Merchants and Business Men of our Country.

The object of the Institution is solely to afford young men facilities for thorough preparation for business.

The branches taught are, Book-keeping, as applicable to the various departments of trade: Penmanship, both plain and ornamental; Commercial Law, mathematics, Navigation, Civil Engineering, Drawing, Phonography, and Modern Languages.

The system of Instruction is peculiar; no classes or set lessons are made use of, but each student is taught individually, so that he may commence at any time, and attend at whatever hours are most convenient.

Catalogues are issued annually after the 15th of April, containing names of the students for the year, and full particulars of terms, &c., and may be obtained at any time by addressing the Principal.

In extensive accommodations, wide-spread reputation, and the lengthy experience of the Principal, this Institution offers facilities superior to any other in the country, for young men wishing to prepare for business, and to obtain at the same time A DIPLOMA, which will prove a recommendation for them to any Mercantile House.

☞ CRITTENDEN'S Series of Treatises on Book-Keeping, now more widely circulated than any other work on the subject, are for sale at the College.

One of the Largest and Most Widely Circulated Papers in the State. Gives the Earliest and Fullest Intelligence

Prospectus for the New Year.

On assuming control of the Commercial, at the commencement of the year, the conductors announced their DETERMINATION to infuse a new life and vigor into its columns which should render the paper MORE THAN EVER ACCEPTABLE TO THE READER.

The Rapid Increase in Circulation, flattering notices of our contemporaries, and Congratulatory Letters from every quarter, assure us that our efforts have not been unsuccessful.

The Commercial HAS GROWN DAILY in public favor until it now ranks among the LEADING JOURNALS in the country.

In order to keep pace with the demands of the reading public, and at the same time meet the increasing pressure on our advertising columns, we some months since INCREASED THE DIMENSIONS OF THE PAPER TO THE EXTENT OF FOUR COLUMNS.

Among the leading features are full & reliable TELEGRAPHIC REPORTS; from all the leading points of interest. It devotes special attention to MARKET REPORTS, including the IRON, OIL, CATTLE, LUMBER, TOBACCO, and the PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKETS. Our RIVER NEWS, receives particular attention, and in this Department the Commercial has no rival. The FINANCIAL AND STOCK REPORTS, of the Commercial are prepared with care and will be found to be unusually full and reliable. Also, the Reports of the LEADING MARKETS OF THE COUNTRY, embracing reports of the DRY GOODS and WHOLESALE MARKETS, and Special Reports of OIL STOCK FINANCE AND TRADE, from day to day.

While special attention will be given to these several Departments, the Commercial lays claim to rank among the leading journals of the country as a medium of GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

Its aim is to give none but healthy reading suited to the FAMILY CIRCLE, and to be a welcome visitor to the discriminating public.

THE PULPIT

forms a peculiar feature of the Commercial. By giving every Saturday an ORIGINAL SERMON, prepared expressly by a Minister of the Gospel, in Pittsburgh or vicinity, (which, also, goes into the weekly,) fifty-two discourses are given in the year, by not less than twenty or thirty different Ministers, without regard to denominational distinction. This Department of the Commercial has attracted much attention; and arrangements are being made to increase its recognized importance and value. As a feature at once novel and instructive, it constitutes not the least of the many claims of the Commercial to patronage.

In politics the Commercial will be an undeviating supporter of the Union, and earnestly loyal to the Government, and as far as consistent with this aim, free from Partizanship.

The Commercial is a large folio sheet, and is published in two editions every morning, Sunday excepted.

TERMS OF DAILY: by mail, $10 per annum; City subscribers, served by carriers, $13 per annum, in advance, or, 25 cents per week, payable to the carrier. Single copies 5 cents. A discount made to Agents.

THE SATURDAY COMMERCIAL—A large sheet, containing all the Current News, Miscellaneous, Literary, and Scientific Intelligence, and Valuable Reading for the Family, is published at $1,50, (52 issues,) per year. In Clubs of Twenty, $1.

The Money for Weekly and Daily must always accompany the order and in no instance can the terms be deviated from.

☞ Postmasters are requested to act as agents for the Commercial.

NEW BRIGHTON RETREAT

AN ASYLUM FOR THE RECEPTION CURE AND TREATMENT OF MENTAL ALIENATION OR DISORDER

And Other
Nervous and Chronic Diseases.
EXCLUSIVELY FOR FEMALES.

THIS institution is now open for the reception, care, and treatment of the independent class of patients who are laboring under mental derangements, or other nervous and chronic disease. We make special mention of nervous and chronic diseases, from the fact that seven tenths of the female patients that are committed to our public Asylums, to be treated for disordered minds, are reduced to that lamentable condition through previous physical disorder. By a well timed and judicious treatment of chronic and nervous diseases, all physical disorders, in the majority of cases may be removed; and thus the mind, having suffered through the medium of the body will when free from the exciting physical cause, throw off the shackles that has bound it to worse than midnight darkness, and reason will, once more, resume its sway, clothed in all its primitive beauty and wonted excellence. Hence the necessity of all those, who are laboring under the predisposing or exciting causes, calculated in the end to impair the mind to resort to an early and judicious course of remedial agents.

The Institution is a large brick building with a stone basement—four stories high and well ventilated. It is situated on an elevated table land which commands a view of entire town—adjacent hills—groves and neighboring streams; all of which are calculated to produce favorable impressions upon the disordered mind.

The Institution is complete in all of its appointments. Having been tastefully fitted up at great expense, in order that it may meet the approbation and views of the most fastidious.

The water closets and bathing apparatus have been gotton up upon the most approved modern scientific principles. This department embraces not only the ordinary baths but, also, the medicated warm air and ascending and descending douche for the more effectual and successful treatment of cutaneous and other scrofulous diseases.

We beg leave to say to all those who may be disposed to commit the interests of a dear wife, sister or daughter, to our charge—may be assured that no means will be spared or efforts wanting on our part to ameliorate their condition or to effect a restoration to their accustomed health and vigor of mind.

For further particulars send for a circular. All communications should be addressed to.

FRIENDS AND RELATIVES OF THE BRVE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS
HOLLOWAY'S PILLS
And Ointment.

ALL WHO have Friends and Relatives in the Army or Navy, should take especial care that they be amply supplied with those Pills and Ointment; and where the brave Soldier and Sailors have neglected to provide themselves with them, no better present can be sent them by their friends. They have been proved to be the Soldier's never-failing friend in the hour of need.

COUGHS AND COLDS AFFECTING TROOPS Will be speedily removed and effectually cured by using these admirable medicines, and by paying proper attention to the Directions which are attached to each Pot or Box.

SICK HEADACHES AND WANT OF APPETITE INCIDENTAL TO SOLDIERS.

These feelings which so sadden us, usually arise from trouble or annoyances, obstructed perspiration, or eating and drinking whatever is unwholesome, thus disturbing the healthful action of the liver and stomach. These organs must be relieved, if you desire to be well. The Pills, taking according to the printed instructions, will quickly produce a healthy action in both liver and stomach, and as a natural consequence a clear head and good appetite.

WEAKNESS OR DEBILITY INDUCED BY OVER FATIGUE,

Will soon disappear by the use of these invaluable Pills, and the Soldier will quickly acquire additional strength. Never let the bowels be either confined or unduly acted upon. It may seem strange that Holloway's Pills should be recommended for Dysentery and Flux, many persons supposing that they would increase the relaxation. This is a great mistake, for these Pills will correct the liver and stomach and thus remove all the acrid humors from the system. This medicine will give tone and vigor to the whole organic system however deranged, while health and strength follow as a matter of course. Nothing will stop the relaxation of the Bowels so sure as this famous medicine.

VOLUNTEERS ATTENTION! INDISCRETIONS OF YOUTH.

Sores and Ulcers, Blotchings and Swellings, can with certainty be radically cured if the Pills are taken night and morning, and the ointment be freely used as stated in the printed instructions. If treated in any other manner they dry up in one part to break out in another. Whereas this Ointment will remove the humors from the system and leave the Patient a vigorous and healthy man. It will require a little perseverance in bad cases to insure a lasting cure.

FOR WOUNDS EITHER OCCASIONED BY THE BAYONET, OR SABRE OR THE BULLET, SORES OR BRUISES,

To which every Soldier and Sailor are liable there are no medicines so safe, sure and convenient as Holloway's Pills and ointment. The poor wounded and almost dying sufferer might have his wounds dressed immediately, if he would only provide himself with this matchless Ointment, which should be thrust into the wound and smeared all around it, then covered with a piece of linen from his knapsack, and compressed with a handkerchief. Taking night and morning 6 or 8 Pills, to cool the system and prevent inflamation.

Every Soldier's knapsack and Seaman's chest should be provided with these valuable Remedies

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discernable as a water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

 Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines, throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each box.

HARPER'S
NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE.
Critical Notices of the Press.

It is the foremost Magazine of the day.—The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore).

The most popular Monthly in the World.—New York Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellent of HARPER'S MAGAZINE—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood-cuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—TRUBNER'S Guide to American Literature, London.

The volumes bound constitute of themselves a library of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the same compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.
